- The developed man has the spirit of peaceful coexistence with his society, he is compatible with himself and with his living environment, and he can change his environment, but does not fight with the conditions.

- Physical health and mental health are important for Developed human beings. He Exercises, has fun and just lives. The way he dresses, the way he speaks, the way he behaves and even the way he looks and his face in a way that is accepted by his society and is balanced in all matters.

- Developed man allows others to finish their speech. He learned to be more Silent than speak, more hear than say.
- Developed man reads books, “developed man” reads books, “developed man” reads books.
- The developed man strives for the whole of the society and its future, and, not only for his band, group, like-minded or relatives.
- The developed man is not intimidated by administrative and governmental officials. He knows that these officials have a position only in their organization and in society, they must serve the citizens.
- Developed man is kind to animals and cares about his environment.
- Developed man designs an important part of his life as a valuable legacy for society, he does not accept the job that is not expert in it and He does not give a job to someone who is not expert in that job, and if he wants to get rich, he leaves government institutions.
- The developed man is law-abiding and respects the law. Even when the law does not conform to his will, he will not break the law and break the law ... but he tries to enlighten and change it.

We need a developed human being to progress...!

Who is a developed human being?

 Irangard Thinking Center

- A developed human being is a person who knows his / her civil rights and duties. Performs his /her duties and demands his/her rights.
- Developed man has a reasonable self-confidence. He believes in his human abilities, controls his life issues and believes that man is a creative, innovative and talented. He knows about inner power that if it wants, it can resolve all problems with reason and management.
- The developed man is kind and calm. He listens well. He thinks well. He does not speak in a hurry. When you meet him, waves of calmness and kindness fill all over your being.
- The developed human being has passed from the need to be seen, does not show grace in speaking and is abominated by the flattery of others.
- The developed human being has a spirit of participation, consultation and cooperation with others. Believes in collective thinking and consultation, knows the division of labor, knows the basics of management, and firmly believes that he is not total intellect.
- different subjects cannot influence on Developed man .He has a stable spirit and an governors aggravate inequality through wrong policies, and then make another wrong decision to eliminate this inequality under the pretext of supporting the poor, Which this increases inequality and weakens the poor. The point that the billboard of these policies is social justice is painful.

Let's not go far way, these days when a large number of countrymen do not have drinking water and many others, deprived of electricity, A wide range of "Service-obsessed" politicians have taken up the billboard of justice once again, willing to give people free house and eradicate poverty by distributing government resources.

Why does not this method work

Obviously, one of the most important slogans that was repeatedly heard during the victory of the Islamic Revolution was the issue of "justice", which was in great demand in society and the revolutionaries believed in its realization. When the revolutionaries came to power, they cheapened the merchandise and government services to prove the slogan of justice. "Water" and "electricity" were two commodities that were determined and recognized as the most important instances of justice in the early years of the Islamic Republic, and today these commodities in Iran are in a critical situation due to the imbalance in production and consumption. In a commendable and respectable effort, the revolutionaries piped thousands of villages and extended the electricity grid, they called it justice, but today there is no water to be piped and no electricity to be sent to distances. . You must have read the news that thousands of villages are currently supplied with water by tanker, and daily, electricity is cut off in many cities and villages in order to balance electricity production and consumption.

There are many such examples, with misconceptions about justice politicians have squandered a wealth of resources in recent years. Undoubtedly, it is not possible to go to the way with the two strategies that Masoud Nili proposed.

If the conflict with the world continues, Iran will be on the path to become another North Korea, and Iran will become more isolated and alone day to day.

If justice is supposed equivalent to cheap government spending, this job continues waste of resources and Suppression sets the motives for the private sector where neither the government can fulfil its core tasks nor the private sector is left to continue production. This way also leads to more poverty in Iranian society.

Irangard waits for your comments and views, dear ones.
Institute of thought

Massoud Nili believes the current situation owed more than anything to two wrong strategies: first, the politician defines the country's independence as a conflict with the international system, and second, he equates justice with cheap government spending

Is there a political and social capacity to reform the super-challenges?

 Irangard Thinking Center

Massoud Nili's Last week interview with Tejarat Farda weekly is undoubtedly one of the most important interviews of his all the past years. This patient and famous economist, in this regard, more than ever discarded the compliments and gave the last warnings to the politicians who were going to take the helm of policy.

Massoud Nili believes the current situation owed more than anything to two wrong strategies; first, the politician defines the country's independence as a conflict with the international system, and second, he equates justice with cheap government spending. In describing the first problem, it is enough that we know today Iran is one of the instable countries for investment and it has not contributed billions of dollars of Global capital. There is no economic relationship with any country based on the rules of diplomacy, and if the situation goes like this, in the not too distant future, Iran will bear many similarities to the North Korean, which is alone and has no special relationship with other countries.

Last week, Mohammad Tabibi-an made a contemplative statement at a businessmen gathering and private sector activists at the Club House. "Probably, We are the only country whose State Department staff is paid that we have no communicate with the world," he said.

Ignore this statement, pay attention to Musa Ghaninejad, who also spoke shortly before about a vicious circle in which

BEHAVIOR

An excerpt from the book Behind the Scenes of Hypocrisy by Dan Erey, a psychologist and behavioral economic expert.

One percent of people are thief and hypocrite. They intend to unlock and rob houses, and one percent of the people are always honest!! And they are not hypocrites under any circumstances!!

98% of people are honest as long as everything is well!!

Most of them, if the circumstances are such that they are tempted enough, they may also make a mistake...!!

Locks are not installed to prevent thieves from entering!! , Thieves know how to unlock!!

Locks are installed to protect relatively honest people, so that they are not tempted and stay honest!!

In fact, all people have the potential to deviate, but the price of every one is different from another!!

And the threshold of temptation of one is different from another one!!

The author in the book "Behind the scenes of hypocrisy!!" has done some interesting experiments; In a restaurant, he asked several customers some questions to answer them for $ 5, but he paid $ 9 instead of $ 5!! And he pretended not to be aware and he has paid 9 dollars wrongly!!

Some customers honestly gave back the extra $ 4, but some put $ 9 in their pocket and left the restaurant frivolously!!

In another experiment, the same thing was repeated, but there was a difference. While the author was talking to the customers, his phone rang and he talked on the phone for a few minutes, and at the end, he did not apologize for this interruption and in fact, desecrated!!

In this test, the number of people who gave back the extra $ 4 was less than the first test!!

When customers felt that the author had taken their time without apologizing, they sought revenge and did not return the extra money that the author wrongly had given them!! This experiment contains an interesting point that can be explained why there are high rates of hypocrisy, thief and anomalies in some parts of the world;

If people feel that they are oppressed by oppressing governor or their rights are violated somewhere they will try to bring back their rights with hypocrisy and theft...!!

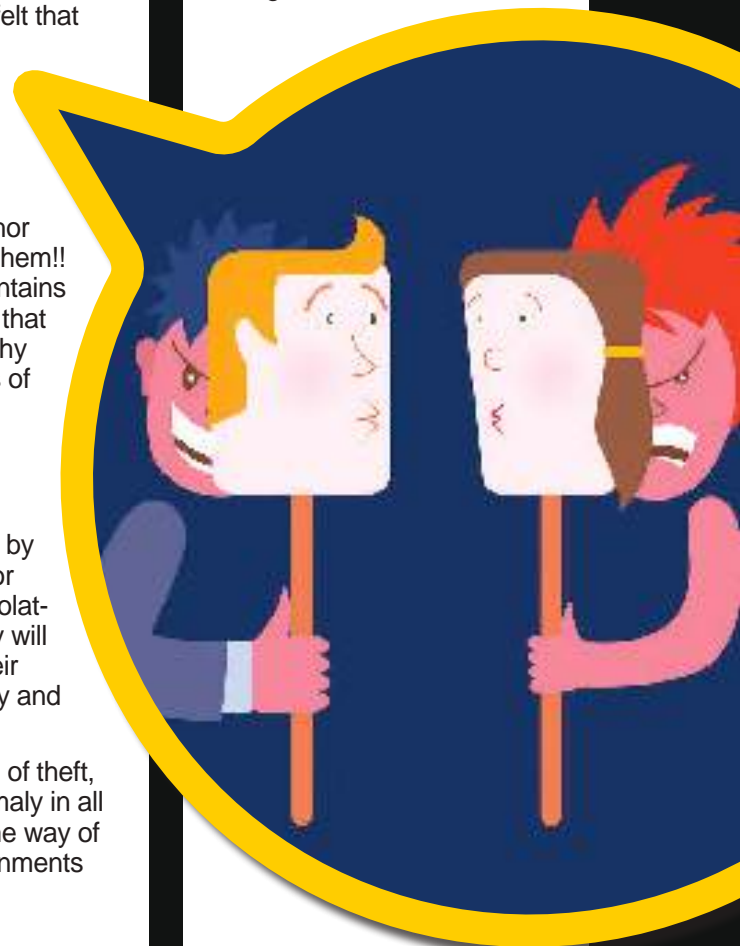

In reality, this level of theft, hypocrisy and anomaly in all societies, refer to the way of interaction of governments with the people!

The behavior of governments influences on the formation of morality in society and can easily relocate the boundaries of morality.

If the behavioral patterns of the government are such that people feel oppressed, the people will consider the right for themselves to ignore moral norms, and hypocrisy, theft, fraud, etc. will be colorful in society, and after a period of time, only the name of morality will remain!

HISTORY

government appoint two ambassadors in each country, one of them is the ambassador of the government and another is the reporter of the Guardian, and in many cases the viewpoint of the Guardian reporter is preferred to the ambassador's. It comes from a deep belief in British that the press is the bible of democracy.

- Do not be toothless wolves: If the media are 100% free but the free rotation of information does not happen, that wolf will be toothless and without any properties. Demanding full implementation of the law of publication and free access to information is our duty. To know the power of information publication, it is enough to think that if the list of those who have received government currencies, government posts, government loans and government concessions (all of which are sweet) had been published in recent years, maybe we were in a better situation. Do not drag here.
- Be a freelance. It is right that not all of us can be journalists, but we can all be freelancers. We can transfer our information to the best person / entity / system we know. Global statistics show that 43% of financial corruption is reported by public reports and 25% by employees. The law to protect whistleblowers will be passed sooner or later. We can all be a expansion activist, a fighter for enlightenment.

- We do not have forbidden privacy!! In our society, no one and no institution is free from error. Even the institution of religion. Let me give you an example. In 2001, a spotlight team was formed in the Boston Globe to focus on church sexual abuse. That investigation led to the massive tsunami of revelations against sex scandals in

The Catholic churches of the world. Spotlight showed that Catholic Church not only had hid this corruption in its system, but also some influential officials were involved in the cover-up. The Catholic Church in the United States has had to pay more than $ 3 billion in treatment and legal costs in the last 10 years. These efforts led to the expulsion of 900 priests from 2004 to 2013 on charges of child abuse. Ordinary people in every dress and position, like us, are prone to make mistake. We do not have forbidden privacy! Development is not made through corruption. Corruption does not go away on its own. We must all help to release the forbidden areas, rotate the information and becoming freelance that wolves take the dream from the hyenas' eyes. Development is behind the walls of corruption!

Iran wants a graveyard wolf!

Irangard Thinking Center

Once, Reza Shah traveled to Turkey. One of his companions had an interesting memory: "once during the conversation, Ataturk once took over a local newspaper that had written about the peculate of an employee of a ministry. Ataturk showed the newspaper to Turkish Prime Minister" Esmat Inonu" and ordered to investigate. Reza Shah wondered" why do you allow journalists to write such subjects and question government officials? I do not allow any news media in Iran to criticize the behavior of government officials in the smallest! "He said. Ataturk quoted an interesting story, "One day a rich and beautiful woman went to one of the geomancers and said that" my husband loves me very much, but I do not love him and I want him to divorce me!" He, who did not want to lose such a rich customer soon, wrote something on the paper and gave it to the lady to bury the paper in a cemetery one dark night, but at the time of burial, she did not have to think of "wolf" at all because in this case, the writing will have no effect. The lady continually took the paper to the cemetery, but she immediately remembered the wolf and could not bury the paper and had to return! "Journalists are like the wolf who, as soon as an official wants to embezzle and take a bribe, immediately the wolf will be imagined in his imagination and will not make a mistake!" Ataturk said. "Without the Free newspapers, even if a secret agent is appointed in each office, it will still not be able to control corruption, because that secret agent may give and take with that official!" (Clipping from Ali Moradi Maraghei Based on the book 'Days after Years').

ON Strategic Analysis and Prescription

If we want a society away from rent-seeking, golden signatures, nobility and kinship, we should pay attention to these four points:

- Support wolves! The British say: "The British

ECONOMY

The World Bank data show that Iran's economy has practically stagnated from 1384 to 13 99 (a period of 15 years).

Will Iranian become poorer next five years?!

 Irangard Thinking Center

According to the World Bank, in 2026, the citizens of Georgia, the Republic of Azerbaijan, Vietnam and Egypt will be richer than the citizens of Iran.

The World Bank data show that Iran's economy has practically stagnated from 1384 to 13 99 (a period of 15 years). In fact, "per capita GDP (gross domestic product) in terms of buying power index" for Iran During this 15-year period, it remained stable, while it has increased for Turkey almost 2.3 times during this period.

According to the World Bank in 2016, "GDP per capita in terms of buying power index" for Georgian (About $ 22,700), for the citizens of the Republic of Azerbaijan (about $ 16,900), for the citizens of Egypt (about $ 17,300) and for the citizens of Vietnam (about $ 17,300), all will be higher than Iran ($ 15,800).

In other words, according to the forecast by the International Monetary Fund, Iranian citizens will be poorer than other countries in the region, which are smaller in resources and population than Iran in the next five years.

بهترین روش استفاده از توالت فرنگی برای سلامتی و دفع صحیح

بر اساس یافته های محققان آلمانی نشستن ۹۰ درجه روی توالت فرنگی در حین دفع مدفوع باعث افزایش خطر بروز بواسیر و بواسیر می شود.

واقعیت این است که نشستن روی توالت فرنگی که مانند نشستن روی صندلی است:

یعنی قرار دادن باها روی زمین و ایجاد زاویه ۹۰ درجه بین باسن و بالاتنه باعث فشار به رکتوم شده و مدفوع به سختی از روده عبور می کند و به بیرون دفع می شود.

بهترین کار نشستن حالت مناسب دفع بصورت چماننده زده و استفاده از توالت فرنگی برای محافظت از مفاصل زانو با یکبار بردن یک چهارپایه کوچک می باشد که در شکل روبرو نمایش داده شده است.
